

Introducing Bedder-Stall™ Pelleted Corn Cob Horse Bedding: A Sustainable Solution for Your Equine Needs

At Our Second Wind, we recognized the necessity for a horse bedding product that not only prioritizes the well-being of our equine companions but would also be a full-cycle product that has key secondary and tertiary benefits in the agricultural space. Our commitment to reducing time, costs, and environmental impact led us to create an innovative bedding solution – Bedder-Stall™ Pelleted Corn Cob Horse Bedding – that reflects decades of experience in horse ownership. We understand the diverse personalities of horses and have designed our product with their comfort and safety as top priorities.

We have used all types of bedding over the years – straw, wood shavings, wood pellets, etc. – and all fell short in one or more areas of performance, use or cost. From this experience we were driven to find a better solution. In the early 2020's we came across the idea of pelleted corn cobs, tried them, and fell in love with every aspect of this bedding product. However, the availability was unpredictable and the quality varied.

When it comes to choosing the right bedding for your horse, the benefits of switching to a corn cob-based option are clear and compelling. Bedder-Stall Pelleted Corn Cob Horse Bedding is crafted from 100% natural ingredients, just corn cob and water, ensuring that it is safe for all animals. Its remarkable absorbency – over three times that of traditional wood-based bedding – means less moisture retention and a drier, healthier environment for your horse. This unique formulation not only promotes safer footing, reducing the risk of slips, but also minimizes the potential for bacteria growth, which can lead to health issues.

One of the standout features of Bedder-Stall is its easy-to-clean clumping ability. This innovative formulation simplifies the cleaning process, significantly reducing labor costs and the amount of bedding needed over time. You'll appreciate the consistent texture and perfect hardness of our pellets, which contribute to a low dust factor, making it a more pleasant experience for both you and your horse. Additionally, Bedder-Stall actively – and naturally – reduces ammonia odors, creating a pleasant scent that enhances the overall atmosphere of your stable. This product is also hypoallergenic and does not contain any corn or corn gluten, so a horse with these sensitivities can safely use this product.

Bedder-Stall is not just a bedding product – it represents a full-circle approach to sustainability. Our bedding is made from corn cobs that would otherwise go to waste, transforming a discarded byproduct into a safe and environmentally friendly option. After use, the bedding can be spread over pastures and fields, delivering critical nutrients back into the soil and further minimizing waste.

Bedder-Stall contains only corn cobs and water – and nothing else – ultimately assuring you of a worry-free, safe environment both inside and outside of the stall. Make the switch today and experience the myriad benefits of this innovative bedding solution, designed with the health of your horse and the planet in mind!
